Theft of electric wires at under-construction homes

Sir,

Recently, burglars have been targeting buildings under construction, stealing electric wires during the night. The wires are cut from sockets and taken away, ranging in length from one to three feet.

The thieves strip off the plastic insulation to extract the inner copper strands, which are then sold by weight.

Residents, particularly in Vijayanagar and Bogadi, have been suffering due to this escalating issue. It is imperative for the Police authorities to take immediate action to curb this menace and protect construction sites from further theft.

MUDA allocates 11 sites to unauthorised land claimants

Writ petition in High Court; Ex-MUDA Commissioner in the dock again

G.T. Dinesh Kumar

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (RK&BCT)- A case of illegal site allocation by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has surfaced, involving former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar, raising serious concerns about transparency and accountability.

The issue, now before the High Court, concerns the unauthorised allocation of 11 sites, worth crores of rupees, to an individual for land that originally belonged to someone else.

A person, who claimed ownership of a parcel of land at Kyathamaranahalli, Mysuru, filed a petition in the Civil Court, which was dismissed. However, the individual appealed to the Assistant Commissioner's Court.

Following the Assistant Commissioner's instructions, the Tahsildar took up the case, but without conducting a thorough investigation, records were created in the name of the individual, who is not the legitimate land owner. The dispute over this later reached the Assistant Commissioner's Court, which is still pending.

Despite this, citing a Supreme Court ruling related to a similar case in another State, Dinesh Kumar approved the allocation of sites. Without considering the true ownership of the land, he sanctioned 11 sites worth crores of rupees to an individual who was not the legitimate land owner.

Details of the case

A 2.18-acre land in Survey No. 155 at Kyathamaranahalli out of the total 4.36-acre land belonging to Shivachikkaiah was acquired by MUDA for residential purposes on June 9, 1992. MUDA later sanctioned 3 developed sites and handed over the compensation money to Shivachikkaiah.

The remaining 2.18 acres of land was still in Shivachikkaiah's possession. Meanwhile, Kodandaiah and his children, K. Chandru and K. Mohan Kumar, filed a claim in the Mysuru Civil Court, stating that the land at Kyathamaranahalli Survey No. 155 belonged to them.

However, on Oct. 27, 2009, the Court dismissed their claim, affirming that the land did not belong to Kodandaiah and his family.

Challenging this, Kodandaiah filed a claim regarding the same land in the Assistant Commissioner's Court. The Assistant Commissioner's Court then directed the Mysuru Tahsildar on Aug. 27, 2012, to thoroughly review the revenue records and issue orders in accordance with the rules and law.

Tahsildar's orders

Meanwhile, Shivachikkaiah passed away on Aug. 8, 2016. Shortly after, Kodandaiah also passed away. Strangely, seven years after Shivachikkaiah's death, the then Mysuru Tahsildar, in an inquiry conducted on June 6 and July 11, 2023, stated that Shivachikkaiah (who had passed away seven years ago) was present during the inquiry at the Tahsildar's Court.

Hearing the case, the Tahsildar recorded in the RTC that the 2-acre, 18-gunta land in Survey No. 156 of Kyathamaranahalli was acquired by MUDA. Furthermore, the remaining 2-acre, 18-guntas of land was recorded as belonging to Girya Bovi, son of Chinna Bovi and an order was issued on Oct. 17, 2023.

Issue reaches Assistant Commissioner

Challenging this, Shivachikkaiah's son Keshavamurthy filed an appeal against the Tahsildar's order in the Assistant Commissioner's Court and the case is still under inquiry.

Despite the pending status of the case in the Assistant Commissioner's Court regarding this particular land, former MUDA Commissioner Dinesh Kumar, disregarding all proceedings, cited that 1 acre and 37 guntas of land in the same survey number has been acquired by MUDA without following the formal land acquisition process.

The Commissioner then approved the allotment of 11 sites, worth crores of rupees (totalling 22,640 square feet), in Vijayanagar Fourth Stage, Second Phase to K. Chandru, son of late Kodandaiah.

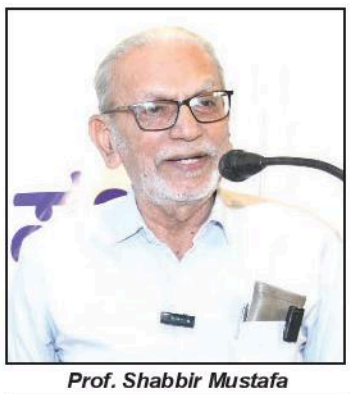
Writ Petition in High Court

As soon as this issue came to light, Keshavamurthy, son of late Shivachikkaiah, filed a Writ Petition in the Karnataka High Court questioning the MUDA approval of 11 sites to K. Chandru, who was not the actual land owner.

The High Court accepted the Writ Petition for hearing and on Aug. 28, 2024, issued an interim order restraining K. Chandru from entering or accessing the property until further notice, postponing the case for further hearing.

In this context, Keshavamurthy submitted a representation letter to the MUDA Commissioner on Sept. 5, 2024 requesting that no transactions, changes in office records, or other orders be made regarding the 2 acres and 18 guntas of land in Survey No. 155 at Kyathamaranahalli, which is part of the original 4 acres and 36 guntas of land.

Waqf property is being used without discrimination among religions and castes: Prof. Shabbir Mustafa



Prof. Shabbir Mustafa

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (BLU&DM)- University of Mysore Syndicate member Prof. Shabbir Mustafa said that Waqf Board property is being used for the benefit of all communities without any discrimination.

He was speaking at the expert seminar on Waqf Board organised by Congress leader Abdul Khader Shahid Geleyara Balaga at a private Hotel here yesterday.

Maintaining that the Waqf Board activities are not limited to one particular religion, Mustafa said it is unfortunate that the Waqf (Amendment) Act of 1995 has now turned out to be a controversy. Stating that almost all of Waqf properties are voluntarily donated ones, he said that the Waqf Board does not forcibly acquire properties.

Asserting that Waqf Properties are not meant for commercial use and only for social purposes, he charged the BJP leaders of politicising the Waqf Board issue.

Contending that Waqf properties have centuries of history, he said that there are property agreements as old as 876 A.D and 919 A.D are available in the Board's Museum. Asserting that no Muslim has questioned the divinity of Lord Ram, he said that Islam does not permit speaking ill of other religions.

"There is a place for non-Muslims too in the Waqf Board. There is reservation for women too. I wonder why the RSS which speaks so much about religion and religious matters, hasn't given space for women in its organisation thus far", he said and expressed anger why the Waqf Board is being unfairly targeted when there is corruption everywhere.

He also strongly opposed the Union Government's move to introduce Waqf (Amendment) Bill, 2024 for amending the Waqf Act,1995 and to redress the issues and challenges in regulating and managing Waqf properties.

Congress leader Abdul Khader Shahid, activist Shivasundar and farmer leader Manju Kiran too spoke. Azeemuddin and others were present.

DKS for lifting of night traffic ban in Bandipur

Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar's statement is for political gain in Wayanad bypolls: MP

Shivakumar

Yaduveer

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (BCT)- The remarks made by Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar (DKS) in Wayanad, suggesting that Karnataka may reconsider the night traffic ban in Bandipur Tiger Reserve, have sparked a major controversy in the State.

Since 2009, the Karnataka government has enforced night traffic restrictions on National Highways 67 and 766, passing through the Bandipur Tiger Reserve and leading to Ooty and Sultan Bathery, respectively. The ban, from 9 pm to 6 am, aims to protect wildlife, including tigers and reduce human-wildlife conflict in the region.

Despite significant opposition from Kerala, Karnataka has stood firm on restrictions till now. However, Shivakumar has announced that Karnataka government will take necessary steps to address night traffic ban on National Highway 766, which connects Kozhikode and Kollegal.

Speaking at a public meeting in Padinjarathara, Wayanad, during UDF candidate Priyanka Gandhi Vadra's election campaign, Shivakumar revealed that Priyanka had contacted him two days ago, expressing her intent to visit Karnataka to discuss the lifting of the night traffic ban.

Shivakumar assured the public that the Karnataka Government is committed to resolving the issue. He emphasised that the ban has been causing inconvenience to thousands of Kerala travellers and students studying in Karnataka.

While limited number of transport buses, ambulances and emergency vehicles are exempt, the restriction has led to a significant reduction in collisions between vehicles and wildlife, resulting in fewer casualties.

Against guidelines

Wildlife conservationists and activists have raised concerns, noting that the Karnataka High Court has upheld the night traffic ban. Additionally, the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) in its report has recommended that the ban on night traffic should remain in place across various national parks and tiger reserves.

The NTCA emphasised that the ban is crucial to protect wildlife from the disturbances caused by constant traffic flow, ensuring their safe passage. The National Board of Wildlife (NBWL) also advises that such restrictions be enforced in core critical tiger habitats, national parks and sanctuaries.

For political gains: MP

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar took to X (formerly Twitter) to strongly oppose Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar's comments regarding the potential lifting of the night traffic ban in Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

In a tweet, Yaduveer criticised Shivakumar's statement, saying, "Bandipur's natural beauty and ecological diversity are treasures that belong to the wildlife thriving within it. Allowing night travel through this sanctuary endangers these species and invites human-wildlife conflict," he posted.

"The recent statement by Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar, assuring the lifting of the night travel ban on NH 766 for political gain during the Wayanad bypolls, is both irresponsible and condemnable. Karnataka's wildlife cannot be jeopardised for electoral gains in another State. Our Government should protect, not compromise, the sanctity of these ecological zones," Yaduveer said.

'Kaalia' remarks on HDK

JD(S) demands Zameer's sacking from Cabinet

JD(S) Working President S.R. Mahesh addressing the party workers during the protest at Gandhi Square in Mysuru this morning.

Mysuru, Nov.12 (BLU&TRR)- Janata Dal (Secular) Working President and former Minister S.R. Mahesh has taken a strong objection to the remarks made by Housing Minister B.Z. Zameer Ahmed Khan against Union Minister and former Chief Minister (CM) H.D. Kumaraswamy by calling the latter as 'Kaalia.' He has demanded that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah must dismiss him from the Cabinet for his arrogant remark.

He was speaking to the media persons at his office on Ramavilas road in the city this morning.

"Elections are a part of democratic process, but the ensuing Channapatna by-election on Nov. 13, is in news for two controversial reasons. To begin with, CM Siddaramaiah at a public meeting held yesterday accused JD(S) supremo H.D. Deve Gowda of destroying the political career of many Vokkaliga leaders. It was Deve Gowda, who uplifted the political career of many leaders including Siddaramaiah and also of those who were in his coterie. Many leaders supported by Deve Gowda, left the party for their selfish reasons," said Mahesh.

Continuing, he said that Zameer was in JD(S) for a long time and was an ardent follower of H.D. Kumaraswamy and was in awe of him. Now, he has the audacity to say that the Muslims can purchase Kumaraswamy. Does he have any sense of gratitude and culture? asked Mahesh.

Warning that JD(S) workers will wave black flags against him (Zameer), wherever he goes, if he fails to apologise for his remarks against Kumaraswamy, Mahesh said that, Zameer who is criticising Deve Gowda and Kumaraswamy may treat Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar in a similar fashion in the future. Hence, Siddaramaiah must immediately dismiss him from the Cabinet, demanded Mahesh.

Later, the party workers led by City JD(S) President K.T. Cheluvegowda staged a protest against Minister Zameer for his remarks against Kumaraswamy.

CM Siddaramaiah makes open call to MLA G.T. Devegowda to leave JD(S)

Bengaluru, Nov. 12 (KMS& DM)- With Chamundeshwari JD(S) MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) maintaining a distance from party leaders and party affairs for the past couple of months reportedly due to serious differences with top brass, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has made an open call to GTD asking him to leave JD(S).

Addressing a poll rally at Doddamalur near Channapatna on behalf of Channapatna Congress candidate C.P. Yogeshwar yesterday, Siddaramaiah said that GTD, who is an old friend of his, should come out of JD(S) as JD(S) leadership will not allow any other party leader to grow, except the family members of H.D. Deve Gowda clan.

Maintaining that JD(S) supremo Deve Gowda, who is also a former PM, had finished off top leaders such as B.L. Shankar, C. Byregowda and Y.K. Ramaiah, the CM wondered if the former PM will ever spare GTD.

"I have cautioned GTD to be

Siddaramaiah

G.T. Devegowda

weary of JD(S) leaders as both Deve Gowda and his son H.D. Kumaraswamy will not let fellow Vokkaliga community leaders to reach the top. There are many other Janata Parivar leaders like K.N. Nagegowda, B.N. Bachegowda and Varadegowda, who were forced to leave the party because of the tantrums of Gowda family. Now the JD(S) supremo is out to politically finish off Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar and his brother D.K. Suresh, a former MP, either by hook or crook", he said adding that he would never have become CM had he remained in JD(S).

Accusing the former PM of carrying out a false propaganda that the Congress Guarantee Schemes would stop after the bypolls, Siddaramaiah said the Opposition leaders are jealous of him because he became CM for second time. Asserting that Deve Gowda would not have become Karnataka CM in 1994, but for him and veteran leader R.L. Jalappa, he said that the ex-PM may have forgotten this.

The CM appealed the Channapatna Constituency electorate not to fall prey to the false tears of JD(S) leaders and to vote for the Congress candidate C.P. Yogeshwar.

Sharath Jois headed Ashtanga Yoga Institute after 2008

His grandfather legendary Yoga Guru K. Pattabhi Jois passed away at the age of 93 in May 2009

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (OSR)- The grandson of legendary yoga guru K. Pattabhi Jois, Sharath Jois took on the mantle of running the world-renowned Ashtanga Yoga Institute — Krishna Pattabhi Jois Ashtanga Institute (KPJAYI) — in 2008 after his grandfather fell ill.

Pattabhi Jois passed away at the ripe old age of 93 in Mysuru on May 18, 2009.

With decades of teaching experience behind him, Sharath became the world's foremost authority in Ashtanga yoga.

Thanks to the Jois family, who popularised this method in the West, Ashtanga Yoga grew into a multi-million-dollar industry worldwide. Celebrity yoga practitioners like Madonna, Sting and Gwyneth Paltrow swore by it.

Ashtanga Yogashalas around the globe adopted the Mysore-style practice, where teachers did not lead the class but provided one-to-one guidance in a group setting. KPJAYI was considered the source of Ashtanga Yoga because Pattabhi Jois had been a student of T. Krishnamacharya, known as the father of modern yoga.

Sharath received more than 5,000 applications every month for his classes, which could accommodate 350-400 students. He worked continuously for seven to eight hours each day, waking up at 1 am to complete his own practice before the first set of students arrived by 3.30 am.

His impact, however, extended beyond the walls of the institute. Due to the influx of foreign students visiting Mysuru, the local economy in Gokulam thrived, benefiting everyone from housemaids to auto drivers and café operators.

Sharath was instrumental in shaping some of the world's best yoga teachers and, in doing so, elevated the market value of yoga. A staunch critic of short-term Teacher Training Certificates (TTCs) offered by many private yoga institutes, Sharath believed that one could become a competent yoga teacher only after three to five years of dedicated practice. Sharath's personal experience demonstrated that yoga, when practised correctly, healed rather than harmed. He had been a sickly child, suffering from tonsillitis at the age of four, rheumatic fever that confined him to bed at age 11, and a hernia that affected his joints and heart at 13.

Highlighting the health benefits of yoga, Sharath recommended Ashtanga Yoga for everyone — both young and old — and especially for those with respiratory issues, allergies, and as a means to counteract the effects of pollution.

Sharath was also responsible in promoting Mysuru tourism to his foreign students by explaining about the tradition and culture of Mysuru besides urging his students to visit Mysore Palace, Mysuru Zoo and various heritage structures across the city to know about the cultural capital.

Sharath has trained teachers, who have been conducting yoga classes across Africa, Asia, Europe, Australia, North America and South America.

Sharath Jois' breathing technique relieved Hillary Clinton's stress

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (OSR)- A Yoga technique pioneered and popularised by Yoga Guru R. Sharath Jois had gained recognition from former US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, wife of former US President Bill Clinton.

Hillary Clinton

The technique, known as Alternate Nostril Breathing or Nadi Shodhana Pranayama, was highlighted by Clinton during an interview on CNN's Anderson Cooper 360° in September 2017.

She enthusiastically recommended it to the host, Anderson Cooper, asking, "Have you tried that? I would highly recommend it." When Cooper expressed curiosity and admitted he had never heard of it, Clinton demonstrated: "You breathe through one (nostril), hold it, and exhale through the other, and you keep going," she had explained.

Hillary Clinton further elaborated on the benefits of the practice, emphasising its calming effects: "Based on my personal experience, if you're sitting cross-legged on a yoga mat, inhaling, holding and then exhaling slowly, it is very relaxing," she had noted.

Clinton also described this technique in her memoir, "What Happened," on page 27, as a crucial method for managing the stress following her loss in the 2016 Presidential election.

Expressing his delight over Hillary Clinton's recognition of his work, Sharath Jois had told Star of Mysore in 2017 that he developed Nadi Shodhana Pranayama eight years ago after extensive study and research in Pranayama.

"The technique was created to offer simple breathing exercises for stress relief and better health. It is an effective, proven method for reducing stress and alleviating respiratory issues. While traditional Pranayama with Asanas can be complex, Nadi Shodhana Pranayama is straightforward," he had explained.

Madonna's tryst with Ashtanga Yoga

The noted pop singer Madonna, who donned the role of a yoga teacher in a movie, is into Ashtanga Yoga in real life also.

In the film 'The Next Best Thing' (released in 2000) which stars Madonna as Abbie, a yoga teacher, whose friendship with a gay man undergoes a dramatic change, yoga gets royal treatment. The $ 30 million-film was directed by John Schlesinger. In one of the important sequences in the movie, Madonna demonstrates a series of difficult yoga poses with many of her instructors. "The kind of yoga that I am doing in the film is Ashtanga Yoga, which is a kind I practice in real life," she says.

"When I was pregnant, I began doing Hatha Yoga and then began doing the more difficult Ashtanga Yoga after I had the baby, because I wanted to do something more visceral and physical."

The movie thanks K. Pattabhi Jois "for illuminating the teaching of yoga."

What impressed Madonna about Jois, is his simplicity and rigorous demands, her associates say. He was never tempted to rush to Hollywood to make the big bucks. However, the Toronto-based Downward Dog Yoga Centre, teaches Jois' kind of Ashtanga Yoga.

Madonna takes special pride in the Ashtanga Yoga sequence. "Several of my real yoga teachers are in this scene, people I really look up to in my real practice," she says. "It was odd, because in the film I portray that instructor and I had to go around correcting their poses, acting like I know they do."

Last rites of Kodagu girl held in hometown after 18 years

Madikeri, Nov. 12 (PS&BCT)- The skeletal remains of Safiya (14), a girl from Kodagu who was murdered in Goa 18 years ago, were laid to rest in her hometown on Monday, Nov. 11, following Islamic traditions.

Safiya

The skeletal remains of Safiya being carried in a box.

In a significant development in Safiya's murder case, the Kasaragod District Court in Kerala issued an order on Nov. 6, directing the handing over of Safiya's skeletal remains to her parents. Following the Court's directive, the remains were retrieved from the Kochi Forensic Laboratory and brought to her village.

At the old mosque in Aiyangeri, religious leader Usman Marzooki led a peace prayer for Safiya's remains. The remains were then buried at the mosque's burial ground.

Background of the case

Safiya, the daughter of Moidu and Ayesha from Napoklu Aiyangeri, was taken to Goa in 2006 by K.C. Hamsa, a private contractor from Muliyaar Mastikunda, Kasaragod, to work as a domestic help.

Hamsa and his wife, Maimoona, subjected Safiya to daily physical abuse. While working in the kitchen at Maimoona's house in Goa, Safiya suffered severe burns from hot water, leaving her in critical condition.

Fearing prosecution under child labour laws, Hamsa, Maimoona and Maimoona's brother M. Abdullah decided to cover up the crime. In a horrific act, they cut Safiya's body into parts, put in a gunny bag and buried it near an under-construction bridge in Goa.

Days after Safiya's disappearance, a case was registered at the Adur Police Station in Kasaragod. Local residents and various organisations, suspecting foul play, launched a widespread campaign through the 'Safiya Action Committee,' demanding a thorough investigation into the case. The case became a media sensation.

Amid growing public pressure, the Kerala Government eventually transferred the case to the Kasaragod District Crime Branch two years later.

During the investigation, Crime Branch officers subjected Hamsa, his wife Maimoona,and her brother Abdullah to intense questioning, which led to the revelation that Safiya had been murdered.

On June 5, 2008, the Police exhumed the remains buried near the under-construction bridge in Goa. DNA testing confirmed that the remains were indeed Safiya's.

The accused — Hamsa, Maimoona, Abdullah, Moidu Haji and Adur Police Station ASI Gopalakrishna, who had assisted them — were all arrested and jailed.

Jail terms

On July 16, 2015, the Kasaragod District Principal and Sessions Court sentenced the main accused Hamsa, to death and imposed a fine of Rs. 10 lakh. The other two accused, Maimoona and her brother Abdullah, were sentenced to six years in prison and fined Rs. 1 lakh each.

Two other individuals were acquitted due to insufficient evidence. However, after the appeal by the main accused, the Kerala High Court, in 2019, commuted Hamsa's death sentence to life imprisonment, observing that he did not have any criminal antecedents.

Taking a cue from Supreme Court judgments, the Court felt that the death penalty need not be imposed on the accused. The Bench also cancelled the punishment given to Maimoona and Abdulla.

Sensitive case, a shocker

Given the sensitivity of the case, which had shocked Kasaragod and Kodagu, Safiya's skeletal remains were preserved at the Kochi Forensic Science Laboratory as per Court orders.

On Nov. 6, 2024, Safiya's parents, Moidu and Ayesha, requested the Kasaragod District Court to release their daughter's remains so they could perform her last rites according to their religious traditions. The Court granted their request, and Safiya's remains were handed over to her parents.

The remains were brought from Kochi and were laid to rest, bringing some peace to the grieving family after 18 years of waiting for justice.

The ceremony was attended by Safiya's father, Moidu, her two brothers, Abdul Khader (President of Aiyangeri-Jamaat), Rashid Aiyangeri (Gram Panchayat member), as well as several prominent figures, including Usman and Mohammad, along with dozens of villagers.

5-day B.V. Karanth College Rangotsava begins

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (PM&BS)- Noted artist Baadal Nanjundaswamy opined that, each of the Rangayana artistes were akin to encyclopaedia, who should be treated with respect by the society and the Government.

He was addressing the gathering after inaugurating five-day B.V. Karanth College Rangotsava-2024, organised by Rangayana at Bhoomigeeta auditorium, by painting on the canvas on Monday.

"I have been associated with Rangayana since my childhood and the artistes here have enormously contributed towards the growth of the repertory. They are like the pillars, due to whom several more Rangayanas were established. The Government should take into consideration, the Rangayana artistes, by ropping in them even after their retirement, by opening a children's theatre school and make judicious use of their experience," said Baadal Nanjundaswamy.

With such a system, the senior artistes will emerge as a beacon of light for the children. But, the authorities haven't treated them with due respect. They should be at least made the member of Ranga Samaja, said Baadal Nanjundaswamy.

Noted artist Baadal Nanjundaswamy painting on the canvas to mark the inauguration of five-day B.V. Karanth College Rangotsava-2024 at Bhoomigeeta auditorium in Rangayana premises last evening as others look on.

Theatre and TV artiste Sushma Nanaiah, who released the handbills of Rangotsava, said that one should have a courage to embrace acting as a profession. Having participated in Rangotsava, several people present among the gathering may be having plans to make a career in acting. It is good on their part, but it would be even better, if it turns into a amateur profession, rather than considering it as a source for living, which is all encompassed with difficulties.

Sushma Nanaiah also recalled how her tryst with theatre began with College Rangotsava.

Member of Ranga Samaja H.S. Suresh Babu, Joint Director of Kannada & Culture Department V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, Director of Rangayana Satish Tiptur, Assistant Director of Kannada & Culture Department Dr. M.D. Sudarshan, Convener of College Rangotsava K.R. Nandini and Co-ordinator Arsikere Yogananda were present.

On the occasion, students of Mahajana First Grade College, Mysuru, staged the play 'Vasanta Yamini Swapna Chamatkara' (based on Shakespeare's 'A Midsummer Night's Dream'). The play was directed by V. Ranganath.

Today at 6.30 pm, Hunsur's Government Women's First Grade College students will stage the play 'Henmaklu Kathe Heltare,' written and directed by M. Arjun.

Week-long Mental Health Awareness Campaign
Positive thinking is an important aspect of mental health: NIMHANS Professor

Dr. E. Aravind Raj, Additional Professor, Department of Psychiatric Social Work at NIMHANS, Bengaluru, addressing the gathering at Sapient College on KRS Road in Metagalli, Mysuru, on Sunday during the inauguration of week-long Mental Health Awareness Campaign.

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (PM&KS)- "Mental health is very important for the overall health of a human being and positive thinking is an important aspect of mental health," said Professor Dr. E. Aravind Raj, Additional Professor, Department of Psychiatric Social Work at National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS), Bengaluru.

He was speaking at the inaugural function of the week-long Mental Health Awareness Campaign for schools and college across Mysuru, Hassan and Kodagu districts, organised by Sapient College, Mysuru and Mind and Matter, organised in association with Community Mental Health Unit, Department of Psychiatric Social Work, NIMHANS, Bengaluru, at Sapient College premises on KRS Road in Metagalli, Mysuru, on Sunday.

Pointing out that many have not understood the concept of mental health correctly, Dr. Aravind said that we commonly speak about physical health topics when it comes to health, but there is no perfect health without mental health.

"Just because one does not have mental illness, he or she cannot assume to have good mental health. The mental health of many without any diagnosable mental disorder is also not very good. If such a person is subjected to medical examination and counselling, it will be known," he added.

Stating that it is very important to know about mental health, he said, "Mental health includes several aspects and one of the aspects is how much we realise our potential. Similarly, coping with daily stress positively is a mental aspect and engaging in any activity with enthusiasm is mental health," he explained.

Speaking about the awareness campaign in his inaugural address, Mind and Matter Co-ordinator B. Vagish said that the awareness campaign on mental health in schools and colleges began in August 2022 and now, the awareness campaign is being held in collaboration with NIMHANS which will go on till Nov. 16.

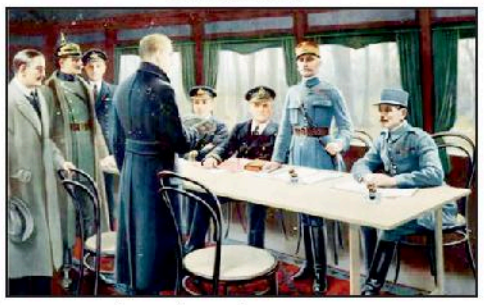
WORD OF THE DAY

Armistice



Pronunciation: AHR-muh-stus (Noun)
Meaning: An armistice is an agreement to stop fighting a war, or in other words, a truce.
Origin: Armistice comes from the New Latin word armistitium, which in turn combines a stem of the Latin verb sistere, meaning "to make stand, halt, bring to a standstill," with arma, meaning "implements of war, weapons." An armistice, therefore, is literally a cessation of arms. Armistice Day is the name that was given to the holiday celebrated in the United States on November 11 before it was renamed Veterans Day by Congress in 1954. The original name refers to the agreement between the Allied Powers and Germany to end the hostilities that constituted the First World War—an agreement designated to take effect on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month."
Example: "The year is 1918, and the armistice is just around the corner, but no one on the front line can possibly know that yet." — Damon Wise, Deadline, 31 Aug. 2024

THE ODD WORD

Anthrophobia

Fear of flowers.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Rock the Boat

Meaning: The phrase 'Rock the Boat' means to do something that causes trouble or disturbs the harmony of a situation.
Origin: The origin of the 'Rock the boat' is attributed to American statesman, lawyer and politician William Jennings Bryan, who was famously quoted "The man who rocks the boat ought to be stoned when he gets back on shore." In this 1914 quote, it is evident that Bryan was referring to those who stir up trouble.
Example: "We are days before the elections; you can't rock the boat now!"

QUOTE BOX

In war the heroes always outnumber the soldiers ten to one.

— H. L. Mencken
